Mr. and Miss Prep

Steve, an honor student and outstanding football player, was elected by his fellow classmates as Mr. Prep. Steve has attended Prep since the seventh grade and has always been involved in many activities. Steve is a member of the Key Club, the M club, and the Hi-Y Club. His honors include being named Prep player of the week, winning the title of "Most Athletic," and ranking second in the state in the Decathalon.

Sherri has also attended Prep since seventh grade. Sherri is a varsity cheerleader and also runs on the cross-country and track teams. Sherri is an active member of Youth and Government and the M Club. Sherri's honors include being named the Junior class favorite last year, Most Beautiful Semor girl, and being elected to the Homecoming Court. Sherri's spirit and enthusiasm makes her a favorite on the Prep campus.

SENIORS

The Seniors could not be matched by any other class in their spirit. They showed their class unity when they challenged the FM 100 Popsi Spirits to a softball game. The Seniors had a good time, even the light they lost. September 11 they sponsored "Midnight Madness," a dance with the band Jester after the football game, at which they raised over $450. They decided to work harder and have two Cabarets instead of the one as in years past.

Halloween Masquerade was the class theme during Homecoming Week. With their artistic abuity and hard work, the Seniors fied their theme and slogans together by using wit ches and goblins to sport the team to victory. The Seniors had the best and most original version of Amitycille Horror and won the class first place in the skit contest. The runner up in the sale of spirit chain links was also the Senior Class. The Class of '82' then won the spirit award at the pep rally for proving their overall class spirit.

During the year, Seniors visited colleges trying to decide which they liked best. Others looked into the job field to pick a career. They took ACT and SAT tests to send off transcripts to prospective colleges.

As their high school years came to a close, they began to realize that this was not only the close of one chapter of their lives but the beginning of another.

It's hard to say when we first became friends. It could have been when we started seventh grade together, or on our field trip to Nashville, or during Mrs. Baskett's math class. It may have been during activity period or when we were studying for our exams and had spent more time complaining than we did actually studying. The time could have been at Danver's after winning that hard fought football game or when you got your license and since you were the one that could drive, we all piled in your car to go "cruising!" It could have been during lunch when we caught up on the latest gossip while finishing our next period's homework

Maybe it's because my locker has always been above yours and every year without fail all of my books fall on your head, but you're still there when I need you most to encourage me to keep going and to convince me it's not the end of the world

Our friendship was strengthened when we realized our senior year had arrived, and our time together was limited We had a great year with homecoming, the day at the river, the bonfires, the parties, and all of the other fun times. Thinking about it, we realize that the moment when we became friends is not important, but being friends and sharing both good and bad times together during our years at Prep will be what we remember

JUNIORS

Involvement

As the junior class looks forward to their senior year, their activities and enthusiasm have increased tremen dously. During spirit week their theme was "Believe It or Not" which was the theme of their signs. Carrying out the theme, they dressed as super-heroes. Even though their skill did not pertain to their theme, it was a very amusing assimilation of a television commercial

The juniors continued to increase their treasury by having bake sales during activity period and sponsoring a dance with a raffle in the spring Also for the third year they sold McDonald coupons, raising over 1,000 dollars each year. Another of their major projects was a rummage sale

SOPHOMORES

Sophomores Spirit Shines

The class of '84 started this year more eagerly than usual because it was the first of their high school years. The sophomorer have been exposed to all high school activities and are contributing to the school's success. The sophomores had tremendous success during homecoming week and were very well represented on the Homecoming

Led by their sponsor Mrs. Casey and class president Tonya Truitt, the sophomores have undertaken many money raising projects. This year the sophomore class has come together and increased its class spirit. This class always showed excellent participation in pep rallies and homecoming festivities. Some of the sophomores followed and supported the football team all the way to Knoxville for the final State playoff

Freshmen Continue the Tradition

The Freshmen class was very active this year. After electing Mr. Ramone as their class sponsor, the class started working on money-raising projects. The big project was a party held at the beginning of the year The guest disc jockey, Mr Monroe, at tracted many students and the party proved to be a big success. Several bake sales were also held throughout the year

The ninth grade was very entl masta during Homecoming Week. The "Class of 85" showed spirit through posters, skits and pep ralites. The class theme was "Turn the Trojana Inside-out," and the Freshmen wore their clothes inside-out on this day

The Freshman athletes led the volleyball, basketball, football, and track teams to a winning season. The "Class of 85" is clearly continuing the tradition of excellence

Eighth Grade Has Promising

Ideas

This year's class of '86 elected officers as usual even though the seventh grade did not. The eighth grade readily accepted the seventh grade. These two classes did numerous activities together such as sponsoring foster children. They also started a Junior High newspaper, for the time since Prep's beginning. The eighth grade participated in bake sales as well as the Junior High Fellowship of Christian Athletes Club. The eighth grade has been provided with a good foundation to build on and to have with them throughout their high school years

Seventh Grade Displays Enthusiasm

The class of 1987 was composed of friendly students that made up one of the largest classes at Memphis Prep. The seventh grade student council took the place of their officers this year producing a newspaper and having many bake sales.

Around Christmas the classes sponsored foster children. They also had guest speakers for career day. On Tuesday and Thursday during the year they met for Youth Fellowship. These students have been provided a new atmosphere and are adapting well. We welcomed the class of '87 into our close family at Memphis Prep

ACADEMICS

Administration

There are many figureheads around the Memphis Prep campus, but at the top of the list is Dr. David R. Davis. Dr. Davis went to Ole Miss to earn his B.A.E. and M.E. Dr. Davis has traveled to many foreign countries in his life. He studied English at Edinburgh University in Scotland. Experience and certification for Dr. Davis has been in several areas of education. At Memphis State University he obtained his Ed.D. in curriculum. From teaching to supervision, Dr. Davis applied and was accepted in 1973 as the school's first and only Headmaster. Memphis Prep is "the building of a tradition of excellence" due to the remarkable guidance of Dr. David R. Davis.

Mr. Oliver McCallum earned post-graduate work and majored in administration and supervision at Memphis State University. He has been working with Prep since its beginning. Having taught many subjects at Prep, Mr. Mac is the Assistant Headmaster.

Another important position at Memphis Prep is the Director of Curriculum. This is Dr. Faye Pickett's second year to be responsible for the area. Dr Pickett attended Memphis State University where she earned her Doctorate of Curriculum. This is Dr. Pickett's seventh year at Memphis Prep.

Applied Arts and Sciences

Health is a general course designed to provide basic understandings of hygiene, personal health, and community health. The problems of communicable diseases are studied. Also taught are the basic principles of first aid

This year the Physical Education department is headed by Coach David Warmbrod. The seventh and eighth grade classes comprise the first level and are based on basic training and knowledge of physical education. The junior level includes P.E. I and P.E. II, in which team play, such as volleyball, basketball, and team tennis are stressed. Those students who are interested in majoring in physical Education may enroll in P E. III. All levels are tested for physical fitness. Now involved in Physical Education and athletic programs, the school would like to become more involved in community recreation programs in the near future

Home Economics is a study of planning, selection, and care of fabrics. Purchasing, preparing, and serving of foods, as well as nutrition, are studied. There is an in-depth study of family economics, human relationships, child care, and the roles of parents and siblings.

Driver Education is a classroom instruction designed to orient students to proper driving behavior in urban and expressway traffic, to rules of the road, laws of physics related to driving, and to automobile maintenance. Laboratory instruction provides teacher demonstration and student practice in driving

Humanities

Art is an introduction to the nature of art and preliminary factors of form. Print-making and three dimensional work in arts and crafts are studied. Students are encouraged to work on long range products that help them develop a work discipline in an atmosphere where they can learn by trial and error.

In foreign language classes students learn to develop their vocabulary. Pronunciation, fundamentals of grammar, composition, and reading are introduced. Emphasis is placed on oral drill and communication. Games stressing fundamental skills are played throughout the year. The study of the cultures includes history, government, geography, mythology, art, and music.

Vocal music stresses the development of choral skills through reading and performing a broad range of choral literature. Students have an opportunity to sing a variety of music from all periods. Solo and small ensemble work are included

Speech is an introduction to the study of speech including public speaking, group discussion, voice and diction, parliamentary procedure, debate, and oral interpretation of literature.

Business

During the course, accounting, the cycle is introduced in its simplest form. Emphasis is placed on the "why" of accounting so that students will understand the reasons behind accounting theory and procedures.

In typing, students learn basic typing skills on straight copy and transfer of skill to statistical, rough draft, and script copy. They apply such skills as centering, tabulating, and composing personal and business communications.

The Gregg system is taught in the shorthand course. Dictation is used for skill building. Transcription is introduced near the end of the first year.

Simulated office experiences enable students who take ATOM to understand office procedures and processes and make them aware of the kind of personal and business behavior most desirable for those employed in offices. Students learn to operate calculators and transcribing equipment, as well as types of duplicating processes and a filing practice set.

General Business is a study of the common functions of business to help students better understand American business. Students learn to develop skills in selecting and using goods and services and to develop greater competency and efficiency in managing personal business and financial affairs. This course, which overlaps economics, emphasizes money management, career projects, and how the total economic system works

Earth Science is a study of the earth, its features, its forces, and its place in the solar system and universe. The basic principles of chemistry and physics will be introduced to form a framework for understanding changes that occur in the lithosphere, hydrosphere, and atmosphere.

Physical Science is a combination of the basic principles of chemistry and physics. It surveys forces, work, power, and simple machines. The course introduces mechanical, heat, sound, light, electrical and nuclear energy with strong emphasis being placed on laboratory investigations.

Biology is a basic course dealing in cytology, heredith, and genetic principles, as well as the classification of organisms. During the course of the year the Animal Kingdom is studied with emphasis being placed on the Invertebrates. Botany, the branch of biology dealing with plants, is another component which is organized into a big picture under the study of ecology.

Chemistry is an introduction to atomic theories, forces and molecules, and chemical nomenclature, as well as the principles of equilibrium, kinetics, and the acid-base theory. Experiments are performed in class to explain chemical principles, such as endothermic and exothermic reactions. Laboratory work is stressed as an integral part of the program.

The mathematical treatment of motion and of the forces that cause it is dealt with during the first semester of physics. Emphasis is placed on the types of energy, such as heat, electrical, sound, optical, and nuclear. Experiments in the lab are conducted to further explain these principles.

Mathematics

Algebra is a course in the development of the real number system with emphasis upon the basic operations of arithmetic in the algebraic system. The complex number system is also stressed. The use of symbols in equations and formulas is also important as a basis for further study in mathematics.

Geometry is the study of the relations of points, lines, planes, and solids. Constructions explaining theorems and postulates are taught. Inductive and deductive reasoning processes are stressed. These are part of the effort to obtain logical and valid conclusions

Advanced math combines a study of trigonometry, advanced algebra, and analytical geometry. Also stressed are special formulas, identities, graphs of functions, and equations. Analytical geometry includes the study of the straight line, circle, parabola, ellipse, and the hyperbola Advanced algebra stresses the theory of equations, concept of limits, and other selected topics.

Statistics and Probabilities is a onesemester pre-calculus course. Topics included in the course are axiomatic and conditional probability; bionomial, normal, and sampling distributions; hypothesis testing; and organizing and reporting data. It is for the student who plans to enter such fields as business economics, education, psychology, sociology, biology, and medicine. This course provides adequate preparation for the usual college courses offered in these areas

Introduction to calculus is a course planned to further prepare the student for the post-graduate mathematics studies. Limits, continuity, derivatives, maximum and minimum values, curve tracing, tangents and normals and related rates are among the topics investigated. Applied problems are worked throughout the course

English

The English department is divided into four levels which correspond to the high school years. Different types of writing such as the epic, the short story, the novel, the drama, and poetry are studied. Library use is encouraged and research skills are developed through short research reports, composition, and supplementary reading requirements. The expansion of vocabulary, as well as the use of figurative language and other devices of style are stressed.

Junior high English consists of seventh and eighth grade classes. Seventh graders are required to participate in two periods of English daily. Developmental reading and expression of students' own thoughts are stressed. The use of library facilities, especially content of a library, classification and shelving of books, and use of Reader's Guide are introduced.

Developmental study skills has been a branch of the English department for three years. The course is open to eighth graders and places emphasis upon development of effective study through techniques of vocabulary study, note taking, organizing, and outlining. It also deals with the reading and listening comprehension of the students.

Guidance

The Guidance office carries out Career Day by the Rotary Club, Student of the Month, and the arranging of class schedules. Mrs. Lowry, the guidance office secretary, has been an asset to the school. Mrs. Hammond, who acts as guidance counselor, helps seniors apply for scholarships, fill out college applications, and send in dorm applications. However, the Guidance office is as important to underclassmen as it is to Seniors.

2. Mrs. Hammond searches for a college catalog for in terested students.

Librarians and POMP

We are lucky enough to have a well-equipped library which has proved very useful in helping the students write reports and research papers. Students can use activity period to relax around the fireplace with friends. The help of the librarians, along with the wide variety of reading material, has given students a greater advantage in completing homework and reports.

The Parents of Memphis Prep have been very active this year in trying to raise school spirit. They helped run the concession stand at football games. They also raised $1500 through a magazine drive to partly pay for the track. They formed new committees to encourage parents to become more involved in school activities

Maintenance

At a school as productive as Memphis Prep, special care must be taken to keep things running smoothly. Not only do these people help keep our school beautiful, they have also come to be our friends. Azzie, Willie, and Bernice all contribute something to make each day special. The lunchroom ladies are always welcomed with their food. Dunning Sets Pace for Runners

Both the boys and girls Cross Country teams failed to win a single meet during the season but there were some fine individual performances. Semor Nick Dunning placed first in all but one of Prep's regular season meets. In post season. Dunning finished second in the regional meet but was denied a chance at the state championship because of a toul up in some paperwork. For the girls team, Lou Reeves placed seventeenth in the district meet and twenty seventh in the highly competitive regional meet.

Spikers Post 11-5 Record

The varsity volleyball team, coached by Irene Collins, finished their season with a very respectable 11-6 overall record. The Lady Panthers were 4-4 in league play.

The squad began the season with five consecutive victories but then hit a slump as they dropped four of their next five games. These matches were very costly as they were all league games. The team bounced back with five consecutive league victories before dropping their season final against OBA. The girls' season ended as they were eliminated in the first round of the District Tournament by St. Mary's.

The girls were led, individually, by Dawn Brown and Jean Frost, who were selected to the District 17 All-Tournament team.

Panthers Fall Short of Expected Goals

After a preseason state ranking and an early string of impressive victories, the basketball Panthers hit an unbelievable slump and struggled to a twelve and sixteen season

The Panthers played the first games of the season without three starters because of the state playoffs in football With the return of the football players. Prep won five out of six and placed se cond in the Christmas tournament, losing only to the number one ranked Catholic in a hotly contested overtime

Prep's fine showing in the tournament gave high expectations for the rest of the season, but the Panthers hit a tremendous slump after the Christmas break and lost seven of the next eight in a row

The veteran team, which consisted of four returning starters, could never seem to get on track. Horrendously slow starts that left the Panthers with insur mountable deficits and poor shooting hampered the team this year. Bad luck also had its effect as Prep lost a total of 6 games by 4 points or less. Also senior sharpshooter David Baker was lost for the year with a knee injury. The squad was unable to replace his scoring punch

The team exhibited its talents and capabilities many times this year but could never establish the consistency it needed to produce the expected results Individual honors included John Acosta and Marty Mosby who received All Christmas tournament honors. Acosta led the squad in assists and free throw percentage while Caldwell controlled the rebounding honors with an eight per game average. Mosby and Acosta shared scoring honors with a better than 10 points per game average. The Panthers finished third in the conference and twelve and sixteen for the season

Panthers Ride Crest to State Finals

Football was the word at Memphis Prep during the fall semester as the Panthers' storybook season unfolded. The squad advanced with an unblemished 13-0 record into the state finals where the weary Panthers suffered a heartbreaking 7-6 defeat at the hands of Webb High School in Knoxyille

Led by head coach Malcolm Phillips who returned to coaching after an eighteen year absence, the Prep Panthers began their season against a highly touted Kingsbury squad. After an early kingsbury touchdown the Panthers staged a comeback with a touchdown just before the half and began the last half with a quick touchdown. The stingy Panther defense then made two critical goal line stands in the closing minutes to seal the 15-8 win. The Panthers began district play the next week and pulled together a 13-0 shutout of a tough OBA team. Prep then posted back to back 23-0 decisions over First Assembly and Elliston. The pass-catch combination of Danny Brownlee and Marty Mosby supplied the offensive punch, while the defense continued its domination over the opponents. An overmatched Westside was next on the schedule as the Panthers east ly put them away. Sparked by the return of Steve Osborne, the squad breezed to a 49-14 decision. Prep then visited Frayser Baptist and came out on top with 20-3 margin. The Panthers then returned home and crushed a sound Skyview team by the surprising score of 49-6

Arch rival SBEC was the opponent for the homecoming game and the high spirited Trojans gave the Panthers all they wanted before bowing out at the short end of a 14-7 decision. SBEC stormed out after halftime and tied the game at 7 apiece. The determined Pan thers then showed their character and marched for a late touchdown and held on in the last minutes to preserve the homecoming win

The Panthers then put their district championship on the line against previously unbeaten Catholic. It was a classic match up of two state powers that proved to be all that was expected. I he Chargers drew first blood with a field goal and went into halftime with a three point lead. The score remained the same until Mark McCallen intercepted a Catholic pass early in the fourth quarter and Prepoushed in for the score to take the lead.

Field Conditions, Travel Hamper Prep in Final Game

In the last seven minutes the gutay Prep defense held Catholic inside the Panther ten vard line three separate times. In a dramatic finish, linebacker Greg Stevens intercepted a desperation pass in Prep's own end zone with only two seconds left on the clock to secure the district championship.

The Panthers closed the regular season with a lop sided 43-6 win over ECS, behind a perfect 12 of 12 passing performance by quarterback Danny Brownies

Before the Panthers began the state playoffs, the team was dealt a crushing blow as defensive coach Ollie Smith died. The team dedicated the rest of the season to him and then proceeded to defeat Halls High School in the first round of the state playoffs by a score of 15-7. After spotting Halls a 7-0 halftime lead, the spirited Panthers dominated the second half with two long drives for scores. Prep then travelled to Decatur County to play Parsons-Riverside. The Pan thers controlled play from the start and coasted to a 34-0 rout.

In the semi-finals, Prep met undefeated Good pasture. In what was supposed to be a hard-fought defensive battle, the game became an offensive show with the Panthers prevailing 31-19

In the finals against Knoxville Webb, Prep fought to a 6-0 halftime lend behind a Steve Osborne TD But on the opening drive of the second half, the Webb QB rambled 47 yards for a touchdown on a busted play. The extra point gave Webb their winning margin. Several gutsy attempts by the Panthers were spoiled by mistakes and the season ended in a heart breaking (7-6) loss

Coaches, Seniors Provide Winning Leadership

The success of the football team can largely be attributed to the countless hours of preparation by the Prep coaching staff. Ollie Smith and Jim Philpot were tireless in their efforts to give the Panthers a winning edge.

Leadership and individual talents displayed by the seniors were also instrumental in the team's success. These efforts were rewarded to Prep standouts. Marty Mosby, Hunter Purnell, and Steve Osborne were All-Metro selections. A total of 11 players, including eight seniors and three juniors, were tapped as All-District. Also, Steve Osborne was chosen as an All-State runningback

Lady Panthers Get Back on Winning Track

Coming off a winless record of 0-28 last year, essentially the same team posted a 9-17 finish this year.

The Lady Panthers began the season with an opening 42-30 win over Auburndale

The girls played steady and consistent during the season behind seniors Beth Thomas and Jerri Laughlin. Thomas led the team in steals, assists, and scoring with an 11.4 point average per game while Laughlin contributed with the highest rebounding average and a fine outside shot

The lady Panthers' turnaround can be attributed to many factors. The girls' in spired play and tremendous hustle, along with the quickness and scoring of Thomas and shooting delivered by Laughlin, contributed to the girls' victories

Although mishaps plagued the "Lady Dribblers" during the heart of the season, Lynda McMulhin, a starter, was forced to drop from the line-up because of a rule in fraction while Beth Thomas was lost for a short period due to an ankle injury. The Panthers pulled together with intensely played defense and an unmatched spirit to salvage a successful season

Hot Hitting Paves Way to Winning Season

The 1981 Varsity Baseball team finished the season with an 11-9 overall record and 6-6 league record. The Panthers placed third in the district tournament and third in the SAC conference. This year's squad was Senior studded as only two of the 15 team members were underclassmen. The Panthers began the season with a loss to Millington (5-8) but rebounded with three consecutive victories over Briarcrest, Harding, and Catholic After the team hit a midseason slump, losing three of four games, the Panthers won four consecutive outings as the Panthers scored in double figures in each of these games. The team's season came to an end, as they were eliminated in the semifinals of the District tournament by Harding Academy (4-8)

Centerfielder, Kenneth Dowdy and shortatop, David Poindexter, led the team in hitting Poindexter led the team in homerons and total hits, while Dowdy was the RBI leader. Pitcher, Jimmy Gardner, paced the squad with a 4-2 record. Individual bonors included Dowdy being selected as an All-SAC selection while Poindexter was elected Honorable Mention on the squad

Runners Place Third in State

The 1980 varsity track teams are unparalleled in their accomplishments in Prep's track history. The boy's team finished with a 6-2 regular season record. They then proceeded to win the SAC-7 meet, the Region 4 meet, and finished third in the state championships. Individually the Prep runners set 12 new school records and three members won the state championship in their events. Nick Dunning finished first in the 3200 m run, Steve Osborne won the 110 m hurdles, and Jon Skiles emerged victorious in the 400 m run.

The Lady Panthers were led throughout the year by the individual achievements of Elizabeth Peek. Only a freshman, Elizabeth proved she was one of the top athletes in the state by placing first in the 100 meter dash and second in both the 200 dash and 100 meter low hurdles. As a team, the Panthers placed third in the conference meet and finished the season with an overall record of 4-4.

This year's ninth grade football squad consisted of twenty-three members, of which seven were eighth graders. There were nine players on offense and defense combined that had never participated in the sport before. During the season the Pan thers were able to overcome their in experience by playing with great emotion and determination. Playing superior defense, the team gave up only seven points in the first four ball games and averaged giving up less than eight points a game on the season. Also, two of the team's losses were by less than 6 points.

The Panthers received their recognition by placing three players on the All-Conference Team. The players that received this honor were Dennis Sanders, a runningback; Steve Carpenter, a guard; Richard Hood, a tight end; Scott Haynes, a linebacker end, received Honorable Mention. The Panthers concluded their season with a 3-4 record. Coach Jones, the new head Coach, stated that he was very pleased with the team's effort and considered the season a success.

7-8th Boys Struggle Through Season

During the 1981-82 year the 7th-8th grade boys basketball team struggled through a difficult season. Although the boys gained needed experience, the team failed to win many games.

Led by Coach David Rainone, the team finished with a 2-11 record. Gardner, Brasher, Pittman, and Bratton, all eighth graders, were the team's top performers. Brasher led the team in serving during the season while Gardner had the highest rebounding average

Varsity Cheerleaders

The Varsity cheerlending squad enjoyed an active and productive checricading year. Through the use of well-coordinated stunts, cheers, chants and skits, pep radies reached a new plateau of success and boosted school spirit to an all time high.

In competition, the squad captured a superior rating and a blue r boch at the Mid South Fair competition in September and competed well in the annual N C A sponsored clinic, hosted by Prep in March. The Cheerleaders' greatest accompaishment by far was the revival of a new breed of spirit at Prep that was sustained throughout the year.

STUDENT LIFE

Junior High Honor Society

The National Junior Honor Society had a busy year. A basket was filled to help a needy family at Thanksgiving, and the group entertained at a nursing home during the Christmas holiday. A special tea was given after the induction ceremony in February to honor the new members and their parents.

Several bake sales enabled the club to make contributions to the Easter Seals and St. Jude Hospital.

The Memphis Prep Key Club is an honor club sponsored by the Kiwania Club of Memphis. Members in the Key Club are nominated by Key Club members and are selected by a faculty board appointed by Dr. Davis. The main goals of the Key Club are to inspire leadership and the quality of good citizenship in all its members by serving the community and Prep in many projects. Those who are selected by the members of the appointed board are those who represent the quality student in scholarship, leadership, and aggressively willing his service to the community and Prep. The Key Club every year performs many services such as the LeBonheur Children's Hospital's an nual fund raiser and the Kiwanis Club pancake breakfast. Keyettes of Memphis Prep is an honorary service group made up of twenty-five girls who work under the auspices of Kiwamannes to serve school, community, and country. In their five-year history, the girls have compiled a service record which includes a variety of interests and a long list of worthy projects. Their main fund raising function this year was the annual talent show, the "1981 Harvest of Talent" in November. They have worked to assist in the Cancer Society's anti-smoking campaign, to beautify the school grounds, to create a bountiful Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, and to help in various capacities with civic undertakings in their home community, Whitehaven. In addition, they worked throughout the summer to assist the staff with records, mailing, and registration materials.

F.C.A.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a national organization with Huddle groups in various schools throughout the United States. The Memphis Prep organization chose the name of the 89 Huddle in honor of Scott Coleman. The purpose of F.C A. is to confront youth with the opportunity, challenge, and adventure of accepting and following Jesus Christ in everyday life and in the fellowship of the church. The "89 Huddle" provides a devotional three times a week for all students and faculty

This year's special events were the outdoor barbeque in the fall and a

spring canoe trip

The ultimate goal of the "89 Huddle" group is to project the fact that there is a brave new world in Jesus Christ and to benefit and strengthen the entire student body and to encourage Christians to build their relationship with their classmates and most importantly, the Lord

Youth in Government

The Youth in Government Club strives to generate excitement and a sense of active civic responsibility in each member towards government. Through numerous workshops the members gained information, practice, and skills which will serve to prepare them for the YMCA sponsored Youth Legislature held annually in Nashville. At the Legislature, various Government Clubs from around the state hold a mock state legislature session. During the session the students introduce bills to the House and Senate while politicking in an effort to gain favorable support. This week is the culmination of the club's activities of the year.

The Art Club was comprised of students who had a common interest in art. Every year the club has set forth a goal of acquiring one major supply for the art department. This year the club purchased another potter's wheel. Through the year the club has had various bake sales to raise money towards the potter's wheel and towards the sponsoring of a visit by Jacie Warr, a local professional artisan. Miss Warr demonstrated her talents on the potter's wheel. The Art Club also donated painters' smocks and aprons to the department for use by the art students. Kaleidoscope

Kaleidoscope in its fitth edition, made known the often hidden talents of Memphis Prep students. Members worked diligently throughout the school year to sift through the submissions by rating them on a scale from 1 to 5, organizing them into categorized bles, drawing rough drafts, and finally patting the work on layouts in the respective sections to be sent to the printers. But the work didn't stop there. After the printers were finished with the first print, the staff review ed the copy and made any necessary corrections before sending for the final printing stage. By compiling their poetry, prose phot graphy, artwork, and other creative media into its yearly edition, the staff captured student thoughts, opinions, and perceptions in a publication that is Memphis Prep.

Panther Print

In the nine years of its publication, the Panther Print has made a name for itself as a leader among high school publications in the United States and as the voice of the students with the student body Published six times yearly by and for the students, the newspaper reflects the activities, opinions, and reactions of the people here at school, as well as informs its readers about what's to come about in the future. Anything that concerns Prepaters and Panthers is the arena of the publication, and everything of school news or student views is discussed through its forum

JR. MISS

On Saturday morning, October 12, 1981, carefully selected judges screened twelve very nervous contestants for the 1981 Junior Miss Pageant. At 7:00 the curtains were opened as Jim Jaggers, Master of Ceremonies, introduced each contestant Poise, talent, physical fitness, and personality were only a few of the qualities these girls displayed. Finally, the announcement was made. Miss Congeniality was Pam Graham. Cindy Jones received the Fashion Award and the Second Runner-Up trophy. Missy Harwell was the First Runner-Up Lou Reeves received the Talent Award and was chosen the 1981 Junior Miss.

PLAY

The 1981 Spring Production of "Oliver," sponsored by the Drama Department, was a great success. This was a story of a little orphan boy portrayed by Katie Karcher. This was the first time a major musical has been presented at Prep. Superb performances by various cast members, combined with an excellent story, enthused the audience.

"Don't Drink the Water," a comedy by Woody Allen, was the fall play this year. It was about a family of American tourists trapped behind the Iron Curtain. Despite adverse complications, the play proved to be a great Success

HOMECOMING

Homecoming was very successful again this year Student participation and new ideas helped make the week exciting for everyone. The week began with students wearing their favorite hats and jerseys. On Tuesday the students dressed in camoflage attire. Wednesday, Punk Rock Day produced the most participation. People were spirited on this day by wearing plastic garbage bags, leopard skin leotards, heavy make-up and wild hairdos. Class theme day was Thursday The Junior High chose "Private Eyes" as their theme Freshmen wanted to turn the Trojans "Inside Out." The Sophomores were "Hunting the Trojans" while the Juniors were the Super Heroes The Seniors chose is "Spook the Trojans."

When the time came for signs to be judged on Tuesday, the winner was a ivious. The entire Senior wall was covered with signs. On Thursday Class Theme Day, the skits were presented, "The Pantherville Horror," was chosen to be the winner The seventh grade came out with the victory in the Spirit Chain competition sponsored by the Student Council However, the Senior class was not to be outdone! STATE

The mighty Prep Panthers left their home base this year to compete with other ranked teams across the state. Our school spirit grew with each Panther victory and hit an all time high by the time of the Championship Play-Off game. En thusiastic students piled into many decorated chartered buses and proved their loyalty by traveling over 1000 miles to cheer on the Prep team.

Our Panthers got a lot of ink in the papers and publicity on television Camera men even showed for our final rowdy pep rally

Students showed their supportive spirit by forming spirit chains at each game and down our Prep driveway

SPORTS BANQUET

The Eighth Annual Athletic Awards Banquet was an inspiring occasion. Among the events was the retiring of Dee Calvert's jersey, number 34. The senior had completed an outstanding year in cluding making first team All-Metro. This was just the highlight of a wonderful, exciting night.

The Senior Awards were given out in their respective sports. Each was very deserved due to all the hard work involved in the student's athletic careers at Memphis Prep.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

HONOR SOCIETY

New members for the National Junior Honor Society are chosen each year by the faculty. These students are judged on service, leadership, character, and citizenship

On February 17 students were inducted in a formal tapping ceremony. New members were Dunyah Al-Chokhachi, Randy Bratton. Didi Butler, Kathy Carlisle, Lisa DeCell, Brian King Sarah Lamon, Ron McNutt, John Manfra, Amy Miller, Mary Palmer, Catherine Peek, Rew Sloan, Carole Stewart, Jimmy Terrell, Jimmy Leslie, Christy Moore, and Chip Williams

The annual tapping ceremony for the David R. Davis Chapter of the National Senior Honor Society was held February 17 instead of the scheduled date of February 10 due to an untimely snow and high absenteeism at Prep. Following the service, a reception was held in the library for the new inductees, parents, and faculty.

The twenty-one students, chosen by the faculty on the basis of grade-point, character, service, and leadership, and tapped for induction into the club were: Karen Byassee, Drew Fairley, Greg Gathn, Catherine Goetz, Jon Graham, Joy Knolton, Yuka Ohtsuki, John Poindexter, George Schroth, John Goddard, Keith Jones, Paul McMinn, Martha May, Billy Mueller, Mark Armstrong, Lynn Koehler, Hunter Purnell, Lou Reeves, Bryan McAden, and Wally Perkins

WINTERFEST

As a contrast to the traditional fall football homecoming, Winterfest was introduced at Memphis Prep this year. On Thursday, February 4, the school was filled with crayons. Actually the school was filled with students who were dressed up in bright colors like crayons. The next day, Friday, students showed their spirit by coming dressed in their most comfortable warm-up suits.

Sweethearts were selected to represent each class. Voted on by their classmates, the girls could not have been members of the football homecoming court. At halftime of the Winterfest game, the sweethearts were presented and the 1982 Winterfest Sweetheart was announced - Cynthia Smith

HARVEST OF TALENT

On the evening of November 12, 1981, the annual talent show, sponsored by the Keyettes, took place. Out of the acts that auditioned to be part of the event, 11 acts of dances, vocals, and instrumentals were chosen to compete for a spot in the Mid-South Fair Youth Talent Contest which is held every September. The show was emceed by Mr. Christopher Sanders, the distinguished Chemistry teacher at Prep

PREPPY & PROUD

Many visitors to our school have noted that the students here are "nicely dressed, clean cut All-American young people." Not every student at Memphis Prep is a "Preppy," however. That is one of the things that makes this school unique. When the "New Wave" craze hit the country, the new look also became prevalent on the open-minded students at Prep

Preppy is a word that is often used to describe the students at Memphis Prep. It is not only a style of clothing, it is a way of thinking. It is the distinctive mark of quality, style, and excellence

Button downs, Polos, Tretorns, and Madras plaid are all characteristics of being a "preppy," and preppy is a characteristic of Memphis Prep

Seniors of the A P. Biology class took their traditional yearly trip to Reelfoot Lake on January 28-29. Upon the students' arrival to Reelfoot, they moved their bags into their rooms in the park's Airpark Inn. After a hearty catfish dinner that evening, Ranger Joe, a friendly guide and host, presented to the students a film showing the history of the Reelfoot Lake.

At sunrise, the less-energetic seniors got up to observe the lake's many bald eagles and water fowl. They claimed to have seen approximately 36 eagles. The 1982 A.P. Biology trip proved to be both informative and a lot of fun.

The craze of the Rubik's Cube was very popular this year. Instead of taking notes, some students used their class time to solve this puzzle. Student Council introduced a new day this year - Pizza Day. As a break from Bowie food, Pizza Day tantalized everyone's dead taste buds

Changes Affect Memphis and the World

1981 and 1982 were years of change for Memphis and the nation. We sat in horror on March 30 and witnessed an attempt on the life of the President of the United States and prayed for his recovery. Terrorism reigned both here and abroad in the shooting of Pope John Paul II on May 13 and in the slaying of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat on October 10. The year's big happy stories were the wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana that induced a feeling of medieval chivalry by its telecast throughout the world and the event that had flags waving and people shouting "God Bless America" again, the return of the hostages from Iran after 444 agonizing days of the hostages from Iran

The American public and Congress alike were awed by our newly elected president, Ronald Reagan and his views that "Government is not the solution to our problem. Government is the problem."

Reaganomics and the New Federalism began the review and disassembling of federal programs and the introduction of new budget and tax cuts. Economically we slid into a recession, but we realized as we visited the filling station that the price of gasoline was down, not up, and that we were spending less at the grocery store. Americans had become accustomed to inflation and were pleased with Reagan's progress.

The imposition of martial law in Poland, Soviet sponsored warfare in El Salvador, and the revival of Cold War tensions helped to keep the hopes for permanent peace in the world even more elusive. Polish peoples worldwide united in the support of Solidarity. Poles who had tasted liberty and were not willing to give it up under martial law staged demonstrations and factory showdowns only to be terrorized by the brutal power of the Kremlin. But Ronald Reagan took a stand denouncing the U.S.S.R. and approving the sale of A W.A.C.'s radar planes to Saudi Arabia. The United States had a strong fearless leader at its helm again.

The major issue of 1981 was not terrorism, espionage, World War III; the major controversy on every true blue American's mind? — the baseball strike. There was no real joy for all the American baseball fans for 49 days. The mid season strike cancelled 712 games and Bowie Kuhn replaced the Ayatollah Khomeini in the hearts of the dedicated fans in the old ball park. The airways became a questionable way of travel when the air traffic controllers walked off the jobs and were fired by President Reagan.

Two events which united Americans and left them with a good feeling were when the space shuttle flew, landed, and flew again, and when Sandra O'Connor was elected to the Supreme Court.

Memphis also had much change. Memphis Area Transit Authority (MATA) raised fares twice and is going bankrupt. The serious crimes rate rose 5.9% in the city but many good things happened too. We were named the Bar-B-que Capital of the World, Memphis State's Basketball team posted a 19th ranking in February, and was on their way up, and the newly formed Memphis American's Soccer team had many good showings.

Southern traditions — courtesy and style were alive again and living in Memphis — in the Peabody. People came from all over to walk down the lavish corridors or just to sit in the lobby with the ducks. It became "the" place to be seen and attracted many international figures

Memphis is a growing, alive city whose people have come to its aid and backing. All we have to look forward to is the future — the possibilities are endless.

When I came here, young and foolish, I dreamed of the day I would leave; but as the time approaches, I look to the future with fear and anticipation, and to the past with sadness and smiles. I have grown in wisdom and in strength because of the friendships I have made and experiences I have had. Those friends so dear to me throughout the years will disperse but stay forever in my heart

When the box was emptied And the pieces tumbled out Unity seemed impossible I tried to force the pieces together But all was only in vain. The only way to make the puzzle work Was to test and patiently try. Soon the pieces began to fit And the puzzle began to grow. It lacked only one piece to be complete But that piece, I could not find. The puzzle I speak of is not really a puzzle And the pieces not pieces at all. The puzzle is the world around me And the pieces, the lives of my friends. The one piece that the puzzle lacks to be complete Can be found only within myself For I am that piece that I could not find. And you showed it to me. Melodie Rickard
